Pay part now. Rest later.

Normally you pay in full
on the day you get a share.
A partly paid share is different.

Think of a deposit on a flat.
It holds your place. The full amount is still owed.

DUE AS A FINAL CALL

Per the company's own FAQ.

TTL Ticker Tales

The unpaid balance belongs to whoever holds the share.

The deciding date is the record date of the next call.

TTL Ticker Tales

Who owes the call?

1. Transfer before the record date: new holder owes the rest.
2. Get it after that date: skip that call, owe future ones.
3. Miss a call: interest, and shares may be forfeited.
