THE PUZZLE

NSE's IPO lists on BSE. Not NSE.

A SEBI rule bars an exchange from listing on itself.

NSE runs India's biggest exchange.

When it wanted to go public,
its own shares couldn't list on NSE.

It had to list on BSE instead.

A referee who can't ref his own team.

A referee can officiate anywhere in the country —

except the one match their own team is playing.

A stock exchange hits
the exact same wall.

SEBI's Regulation 45:

An exchange can't list on itself

It must use a different recognised exchange.

A second mechanism: Permitted to Trade.

- 1 Close to 250 companies already trade this way
- 2 Goodyear India: listed on BSE, trades on NSE
- 3 NSE wants the same route for itself

2017 → 2026

BSE's IPO listed on NSE.

Now NSE's lists on BSE.

₹22,562cr

NSE IPO SIZE • 100% OFS

₹1,700–₹1,735

PRICE BAND

12.64 crore shares.

Opened Sept 17, closed Sept 21.

Tentative listing Sept 24, on BSE.

THE TAKEAWAY

Even the biggest player doesn't referee its own match.
